

VILLA ESTABLISHING BASE WEST OF NAMAQUIPA PLANS JUNCTION WITH REVOLTING HERRERA FORCES

American Army Base at Columbus, N. M., Has Had No News of Villa for Two Days.

Report That Carranza Garrison at Torreon Has Revolted Causes Uneasiness Among American Army Officers.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

El Paso, Texas, March 23.—Francisco Villa has established a base to the west of Namaquipa, to reorganize his command and recruit new men for his army, it was reported here today.

At this new base, it was said, Villa would lay plans to co-operate with the forces of General Luis Herrera, who is understood to have renounced the de facto government. The American army base at Columbus has had no news of Villa for over two days.

General Herrera, until recently in command of the Carranza garrison at Chihuahua City, is said to be moving northwestward to effect a juncture with Villa, and this, in connection with the report that the Carranza garrison at Torreon had revolted, has occasioned grave concern among the American army officers in El Paso.

Villa men, augmented by the men of General Herrera, said to number 2,000, might be in a position to harass General Pershing's army and seriously interrupt the line of communication between the advanced base of American forces at Casas Grandes and the base at Columbus.

An early agreement with the Carranza government for the permission to use Mexican railway lines is greatly desired by army officers.

The main base would then be transferred from Columbus to El Paso, and the Mexican Northwestern railway could be used to ship men and supplies to Casas Grandes.

There is no confirmation of a report that Colonel Cano, of Carranza's army, has joined forces with Villa.

All was quiet in Juarez early today, and street car service, which was suspended last night for fear of trouble in the Mexican city, was resumed.

HERRERA REVOLT NOT CONFIRMED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, March 23.—Confirmation of the report that the Carranza garrison of 2,000, under Luis Herrera, at Chihuahua, had revolted and joined Villa, was still lacking at the War Department today, although a dispatch to that effect was passed last night by the United States army censor at Columbus, N. Mexico.

The War Department insisted that General Funston's message last night stated merely that "it is reported" that the revolt had occurred, adding that there was no confirmation.

No new advices had reached the department, officials said, and it was declared there was no indication in any message received since the American expedition started into Mexico that the troops had fired a shot or had been fired upon.

Secretary Baker, when asked today if General Funston had asked for more reinforcements since the Fifth Cavalry and the Twenty Fourth Infantry were ordered to join him, said:

"I think I will not answer that question."

The Navy Department was without advices from Tampico, where a disquieting situation has been indicated in unofficial reports.

A message from Admiral Winslow on the west coast, said that quiet prevailed in Lower California.

LANSING RETURNS

Secretary Lansing returned from a week's vacation today and took personal charge of the Mexican situation, so far as it concerns the State Department.

He conferred with Elesio Arrondo, Carranza's ambassador, who presented a dispatch from the Mexican consul at El Paso denying that General Herrera had revolted and joined Villa.

WAR TRUCKS ARE MISSING

By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, N. Mex., March 23.—Reports persist today that some of the motor trucks carrying supplies to General Pershing's forces in Mexico are missing, together with their drivers and guards.

The reports are denied at army headquarters and are characterized as "unfounded falsehoods."

Communication between the military base here and General Pershing was again interrupted, by intermittent rains during the night. Both wireless and field telegraph were hampered.

DEBATING

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, March 23.—Debate was continued on the army bill today, with little prospect of a vote until late this afternoon, or possibly tomorrow.

Attempts were made to amend the bill so as to forbid the use of the National Guard for strike duty, but every amendment was defeated.

VESSEL SUNK CREW SAVED

(Associated Press Cable.)

London, March 23.—The sinking of a neutral vessel and a British steamer is announced.

The Norwegian steamship Kannik was sunk Wednesday night. The crew was saved.

The British vessel sunk was the Sea Serpent.

WIRELESS RESUMED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, N. M., March 23.—Wireless communication with the American expeditionary base at Casas Grandes was resumed today, and it was learned that all the transport trucks and wagons with their drivers and guards who left for Casas Grandes last Monday, and who had been missing, had reported today.

The trucks were delayed by the heavy sand trail.

FUNSTON IS READY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

San Antonio, Texas, March 23.—Major General Funston planned today to meet any situation that might be created by the injection of new forces into the Villa organization that is being pursued by General Pershing.

Reports late today, indicating that General Herrera, the Carranza Commander at Chihuahua City, had not deserted Carranza to join Villa relieved the tension somewhat.

It is not known here whether General Pershing is still at Casas Grandes or whether he is further south with one of the cavalry detachments.

The latest report from him was received yesterday and told of conditions Monday.

SIX DEATHS

By Associated Press Dispatch. Indianapolis, Ind., March 23.—The death today of the infant child of Albert Irwin, of Monon, Ind., brought the death toll of the tornado which swept northern Indiana early yesterday, to six.

The property damage is now estimated at $2,000,000.

POLICE WORK TO SAVE LIFE OF ACCUSED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, March 23.—Detectives sent to arrest Dr. Arthur W. Waite today in connection with the death of his father-in-law, John F. Peck, millionaire druggist of Grand Rapids, Mich., found him in a condition of stupor from a self-administered opiate.

Physicians at noon were working to save his life.

The District Attorney this afternoon announced that he would charge Dr. Waite with first degree murder.

Mrs. Peck, mother-in-law of the accused man, died suddenly here January 29, while visiting her daughter.

In March Mr. Peck came to visit his daughter, and died after an illness of two days.

He left an estate valued at $1,000,000, to be divided between his daughter and a son.

An autopsy on his body is said to have indicated that he died from arsenic poisoning.

AGAIN DENIED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Galveston, Texas, March 23.—General Herrera is conducting active military operations against the Villa forces and has not gone over to the bandit elader, according to a cablegram from Mexico City received by the Mexican Consulate here today.

This message says that the Herrera campaign against Villa is being waged in southern Chihuahua, and that on Tuesday night part of Herrera's force fought a battle with a band led by Villa himself.

PRESIDENT VISITS IN PHILADELPHIA

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Philadelphia, March 23.—President Wilson paid a brief visit to Philadelphia today, to consult an oculist. His eyes have been troubling him slightly. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson.

He expected to return to Washington early this afternoon for a conference with Secretary of War Baker.

SAY HERRERA STILL LOYAL

By Associated Press Dispatch.

El Paso, Texas, March 23.—In a telegram today to Consul Garcia, at El Paso, the Civil Governor of Chihuahua declared that General Luis Herrera, commanding the garrison at Chihuahua, was still loyal to the first chief, and reports of his defection to Villa should not be credited.

ALLEN IS FINED $200 AND COSTS

Laurel Allen was fined $200 and the costs when he faced Mayor Oster Thursday afternoon upon a charge of bootlegging.

A second charge was lodged against him, to which he entered a plea of not guilty. He stands committed to the workhouse until the fine is paid.

GERMANS GET FOOTING ALONG VERDUN FRONT

(Associated Press Cable)

London, March 23.—The French are still clinging to a part of the little hill of Haucourt, on which the Germans gained a footing last evening in an attack along the front northwest of Verdun.

Paris announces today that the German infantry attacks in this sector were not renewed during the night, and even the fire of heavy artillery diminished in violence.

The bombardment east of the Meuse was continued with undiminished intensity.

The persistence with which the Germans are pounding the French positions near Vaux, in this region, indicates that they are probably preparing for new attempts to break through in this sector where their Residence Section and Business District Loss Totals $7,000,000—Eight Thousand Homeless.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Augusta, Ga., March 23.—Twenty blocks in the residence section of Augusta in charred ruins, and the bare walls of six business blocks, bear testimony today of Augusta's most serious fire of recent years.

Upwards of 700 houses were destroyed, and at least 3,000 persons are homeless.

The fire, which raged for more than nine hours last night, causing a loss estimated at from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000, was brought to a halt early today.

An area of about one and a quarter square miles was ravaged by the flames, which were driven by a heavy gale.

The Augusta firemen were powerless, and fire apparatus was sent from Columbia, Charleston, Atlanta, Macon, Savannah and Waynesboro.

The wind subsided just after one o'clock, and it was not until then that the firemen could gain in their fight.

lines have been pushed nearest to the heart of the stronghold. Besides striving hard against the German positions on the northern end of the Russian line, where Petrograd declares some successes have been scored, the Russians are displaying notable activity in Galicia. The Austrians report lively artillery fire along their front, with infantry advances at some points. These are declared to have been repulsed.

Sinking of the Norwegian bark Lindfield, bound from Portland, Oregon, for British ports, is announced from London. Thirty members of the crew were rescued.

Another vessel sunk was the French bark Bougainville. From this ship, twenty-three of the crew were picked up.

TRUSTEES PLAN TO VIEW OTHER INSTITUTIONS

At a meeting of the trustees of the District Tuberculosis Hospital, held in Chillicothe Wednesday and attended by President H. F. Brown of this city, it was decided to make a trip of inspection to other district hospitals and institutions with a view to building the best possible institution for the district which includes Fayette county. A contract was signed with Frank L. Packard, architect.

Architect Packard submitted several rough drafts of buildings which might be helpful to the trustees in deciding upon what they wanted. Final plans will be submitted in the near future, and it is expected that actual work on the building will be launched by early summer.

The secretary reported that Highland county has paid her share of $5833.45, and that Jackson county paid $899.53. Jackson county still owes about $2,000 as the remainder of her share. All of the other counties in the district have paid their shares. When all of the money is in $35,000 will be the grand total. It takes just this amount to build the administration building and rooms for the patients.

The contract closed with Mr. Packard was for five percent of the total bids. For this he is to furnish all plans, specifications and inspection.

The trustees plan to go to Kansas City, Mo., to inspect the hospital there as most up to date.

MAPLE SYRUP SEASON LATE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Warren, O., March 23—The unusually cold weather of March so far has delayed the maple syrup season several weeks. Though sugar makers usually tap their trees in the present month, some times in February, they have so far been unable to do so on account of Jack Frost.

If warm weather should come on suddenly and remain the 1916 maple syrup season would be an entire failure, it is said. The counties of the Western Reserve producing the largest amounts of syrup are Ash-tabula, Trumbull, Mahoning, Geauga and Portage.

Cole Younger

At the advanced age of seventy-two years, Cole Younger, picturesque figure all through his remarkable life, answered the final summons at his home in Lee's Summit, Missouri, Tuesday night.

Cole Younger, during the latter years of his life a devout church attendant, law abiding and peaceful citizen, was one of the last of the notorious robber gangs and border outlaws who infested western Missouri during and after the civil war. First a member of Quantrell's bands of "guerillas" and later on, after the close of the war, a member of the famous James Boys' gang, which set the laws of the state at defiance and ran riot with their disregard of organized society and the lives and rights of others.

It is remarkable that Cole Younger, one of the ring leaders in many a desperate outlaw raid and battle with the legally constituted authorities, and with a price on his head for years, should live through it all and exceed the years of the three score and ten allotted to man.

The Cole Younger of his early life was only possible by conditions which have passed away. He was one of the figures that conditions produce by a nation in the making raise to the forefront. His early life was a hard one and he grew hardened with his lot. The necessities of war permitted depredations which, after its close, the civil authorities made criminal. But the habits formed in border warfare were not easily shaken off.

Cole Younger was the boyhood hero of many of the men of affairs of the present day. They have slipped away by themselves, when they were boys, under the shade of a tree out of view of "the folks" or into the old barn on rainy days to secretly read and marvel at the exploits of the daring outlaw who always escaped and to envy him his success. Many boys have fully intended to be like Cole Younger when they grew up simply to bring righteous retribution on organized society, principally their parents, for compelling an observance of some of the conventionalities—such, for instance, as wearing shoes in summer time.

Cole Younger—what a flood of memories that name brings up. Another one of the idols of boyish fancy crashes from its pedestal. We persist in spite of the later life, in remembering Cole Younger the outlaw chief. The flesh and blood man reformed and lived an honorable life, but memory goes back to boyhood and brings out the hero whose achievements held us spell bound.

Patriotism Assayed

When convinced that the United States Senate was determined to pass the Tillman bill, which provided for an appropriation to enable the government to purchase or erect its own armor plate plants—to manufacture its own armor plate—the Bethlehem and other steel companies, which have profited enormously at the expense of the people through the sale of armor plate to the government, gave signs of returning to reason. The threat to treble the cost of plate to the government, made when the project was first suggested, was withdrawn.

Instead of that threat the steel magnates offered to reduce the price thirty dollars per ton if the government would only not go into the business on its own account.

The same offer was made to the House on Wednesday.

Thus the nation is furnished with positive proof that at least to the extent of thirty dollars per ton the patriotism of those gentlemen is fictitious.

Judging from the two positions they have assumed since the Tillman bill was first introduced in the Senate a more severe test would cause their entire stock of patriotism to assay considerably more than thirty dollars per ton of dross.

State Treasury Balances

The unprecedented bidding by the banks of the state for the two million dollars or more of funds in the hands of the treasurer of state was surprisingly spirited.

The bidding for funds this year exceeds that of other years in several particulars. The number of banks throughout the state bidding for the funds is greater than ever before and the amount of interest which the banks, striving to secure a deposit of the funds, bid is higher than ever before since the state inaugurated the very wholesome and profitable practice of placing the large cash balances in the treasury at interest thus making the money earn and at the same time putting it in the channel of active business.

One of the bids received was as high as four and one half per cent and more than four per cent was bid for over two million dollars of the funds.

Just why, at this time, when the money conditions are supposed to be so easy, there should be such a strong demand for state funds is a surprise to bankers and business men throughout the state.

Aside from that very interesting problem which the situation presents it is cheering to note how effectually the old practice of allowing politicians to derive the profit from treasury balances has been swept away.

These funds—these treasury balances—have always produced a profit, but only of late years has that profit passed to the people.

The high rate of interest which the balances earn is encouraging, but better than all, is the fact that those to whom it rightfully belongs, are now reaping the profit.

Poetry For Today

THE OLD LOVE SONG.

Play it slowly, sing it slowly,
 Old familiar tune!
 Once it ran in dance and dimple.
 Like a brook in June;
 Now it sobs along the measures
 With a sound of tears;
 Dear old voices echo through it,
 Vanished with the years.

Play it slowly—it is holy
 As an evening hymn;
 Morning gladness hushed to sadness
 Fills it to the brim.
 Memories come within the music,
 Stealing through the bars;
 Thoughts within its quiet spaces
 Rise and set like stars.

Ripple, ripple, goes the love song
 Till, in slowing time,
 Early sweetness grown completeness
 Floods its every rhyme;
 Who together learn the music
 Life and death unfold,
 Know that love is but beginning
 'Till love is old.

Singing, singing through the roses
 Went our lovers twain—
 Was there ever such a rose time,
 Could there be again?
 Now they tell us "Five-and-twenty
 Junes we've seen them blow;
 Every June's completer, sweeter—
 Well we lovers know!"

EIGHT MILLIONS LOST IN BLAZE

City of Augusta, Georgia, Practically Wrecked.

Augusta, Ga., March 23.—Fire during the night caused damage estimated at from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 in the heart of Augusta's business district and the adjoining residence section.

No lives had been reported lost early today, but several hundred persons were homeless, as the flames cut a swath through twenty to twenty-five city blocks.

The flames started at 6 o'clock last night in a store on Broad street, and the high winds that have swept over the southeast fanned it into fury until local fire-fighting apparatus was helpless. Several cities responded to calls for aid and rushed fire-fighting equipment here about midnight.

Assaulting the Teuton Lines at Three Points.

CZERNOWITZ THREATENED

Germans Gain Additional Ground in the Verdun Sector, Occupying Hautcourt Hill After a Heavy Bombardment—Kaiser Preparing For a Resumption of Infantry Attacks On Douaumont-Damloup Front.

Paris, March 23.—The Russian offensive instituted at three vital points of the eastern battle line between Riga and Dvinsk, east of Vilna, and on the Bukowina border, is being pushed with might and main. The German war office insists that the new attacks against Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's lines in the north, which, together with the offensive against the Austrians in the southwest, are aimed at indirectly relieving the crown prince's pressure against Verdun by forcing the withdrawal of troops from the west, have thus far been unsuccessful and have cost the attackers enormous losses.

More favorable than in the north seems to be the development of the new offensive in the southwest, from the Russian point of view. Here the Russian energy is again concentrated upon the strongly fortified approaches to Czernowitz, the Bukowina capital. The town of Usclesko already is in Russian hands. Thus the Russians are now again seriously menacing Zalesceski, an important railway intersection due south. This is practically the key to Czernowitz.

After heavy bombardment of the small Hautcourt hill, a little over a half mile southeast of the village of Malancourt, on the west bank of the Meuse, the Germans succeeded in gaining a foothold on the height.

This was one of a series of attempts made by the Germans to advance in this region. The bombardment, which was begun as a preliminary to the attack, covered the region of Malancourt, Esnes, Hautcourt Hill and Hill 304. The French guns replied energetically, directing special attention to the Bois de Malancourt and the Bois d'Avocourt, the southeastern part of the Malancourt woods. So severe was the French fire on the Bois d'Avocourt that the Germans here were unable to leave their trenches, in spite of various attempts.

The French communiqués report an intense artillery bombardment on the right bank of the Meuse, on the front of Douaumont-Vaux-Damloup, seemingly preparations by the Germans for a resumption of the infantry attacks in this sector.

Reports were received here through Dutch channels that the Kaiser has returned to the western front.

BLACK AND WHITE

(By American Press)

New York, March 23.—The annual report of the Silk association of America says that there will be very little but black and white silk produced in this country during the coming year. It may be deemed fortunate, says the report, that fashion is already popularizing black and white fabrics. Colored silk fabrics, the report says, will be very limited. This is because of the shortage of aniline dyes from Germany.

Three Injured In Riot.
 Steubenville, O., March 23.—Three men were injured and ten arrests were made as a result of rioting at the mines of the Modern Coal company at Parrott, O. Five hundred armed men, it is alleged, marched upon the company's property and demanded that the men employed join the union.

Safeblowers Nabbed.
 Cleveland, March 23.—Detectives in two raids captured seven men, whom they say are members of a New York gang of safeblowers. Four grips filled with safe-opening tools, dynamite caps, fuses, nitroglycerin and electric wiring apparatus were confiscated. The men were captured in their beds at revolver points.

Nonagenarian Dead.
 Newark, O., March 23.—Mrs. Clarissa Legge, ninety-five, is dead. Her father, Simeon Allen, was one of Granville's first settlers. She was one of the first white children born at Granville. Until a few years ago, Mrs. Legge conducted a boarding house and she was able to care for herself until taken ill a few days ago.

Alleged Assailant Jailed.
 Toledo, March 23.—Because he complained of the fire being too hot, James Christopoulos is dying at a local hospital. Alexander Manapes, his alleged assailant, is held by the police. Manapes built a roaring fire in their stove. Christopoulos objected to the excessive heat. A fight ensued, during which Christopoulos was fatally hurt.

Bids On Road Contracts.
 Columbus, March 23.—State Highway Commissioner Cowan will open bids April 7 on forty-two state road contracts, contemplating the construction of more than ninety-four miles of various types of roads in thirty counties of Ohio, at an estimated cost of $1,466,784, one of the largest lettings in the history of the highway department.

Jumps Into Canal to Save Life.
 Massillon, O., March 23.—Her clothes on fire from an explosion of gasoline fumes, Anna Reese, fifteen, saved her life by dashing from the kitchen of the Edgewater hotel and jumping into the Ohio canal nearby. Mrs. Josephine Sonnehalter, the proprietress, was injured when a wall was blown out. Damages amounted to $6,000.

Swollen Streams Checked.
 Columbus, March 23.—Falling temperatures throughout Ohio, where heavy rains have fallen, removed any immediate danger of serious floods, according to weather officials. The rains, which in some sections were accompanied by high winds, caused alarming rises in many streams. Damage was reported by several interurban electric lines.

EXPERT SAYS BUILD MAIN ROADS FIRST

"Improve your main market and inter-county roads and turn them over to the state for future maintenance, eliminating 100 miles of your roads upon which you have expended the bulk of your road money during the past generation." This was the chief thought urged upon the Dutch Treat Club when G. F. Rudisill, of the Ohio Good Roads Federation addressed fifty members of the club Thursday noon.

Mr. Rudisill stated that if the main market and inter-county roads in Fayette county are rebuilt as quickly as possible, that it will bring the mileage of roads in the county down to 545, and that the main roads will be maintained by the state, kept in almost faultless condition, and that what money is raised for road improvement in the county can be expended upon the other township and county roads.

Mr. Rudisill spoke at considerable length, unfolding the magnitude of the task which confronts the county commissioners and citizens generally in the proper expenditure of the two mill road fund. He offered the services of his department if a nominal charge was paid for actual services rendered.

The loss of population in eight of the ten townships as shown by the census records was pointed out as evidence that road conditions were not what they should be in the county. He said it was time to build with system, instead of in the haphazard manner which has characterized so much road improvement so called, in past years, and which, he stated, had disgraced this and other counties. He complimented local citizens on having the first installment for good roads in the treasury. Brains are the chief thing to be used in road building, he said.

Mr. M. L. Gilford, industrial agent of the B. & O. and Mr. Oscar E. Miles of Columbus, made short addresses before the club.

A spring operetta, in five parts; lots of good music by the pupils of the Central School Building; High School Auditorium, Thursday, March 30th. Program will appear in Friday's Herald.

HEIRS BRING SUIT AGAINST ADMINISTRATOR

Winfield F. Black as administrator of the estate of the late Thornton F. Black, is the defendant in three separate suits filed in the common pleas court, Wednesday afternoon, in which heirs of the deceased Thornton F. Black ask judgment for various sums which they claim was due them from the estate, but which the defendant is alleged to have failed to pay to the plaintiffs.

The first case is that of Savilla J. West against Winfield F. Black. She states that the defendant was appointed administrator of her father's estate in August, 1910, and that an order of the court provided for distribution of $1966.99, and that she was entitled to $393.26 as her one-fifth part of the amount.

Plaintiff further states that the defendant paid her $160, and that the sum of $233.36 with interest from April 1, 1912, is due her.

The suit of Dora C. Marhouver against Winfield F. Black is similar in every respect to that of her sister.

In the next cast, Mary J. Greenlee, sister of the other plaintiffs and daughter of Thornton F. Black, deceased, asks for judgment in the sum of $393.36 with interest covering a period of several years. H. H. Sanderson and E. L. Bush represent the plaintiffs.

OLD OFFENDER IS AGAIN IN TROUBLE

Elizabeth Minshall Faces Charge of Selling Intoxicants, But Is To Lil to Move When Police Go After Her.

Elizabeth Minshall, who probably has faced the authorities more times than any other woman in the city, is in trouble once more.

This time she is charged with bootlegging—that is, she is charged with selling intoxicants contrary to law—a charge which she has often faced in this city.

An affidavit was filed before Mayor Oster Wednesday afternoon, when a man was arraigned for being intoxicated.

When he learned that a workhouse sentence stared him in the face, he got busy and informed the Mayor that he had obtained the booze from Elizabeth Minshall and filed an affidavit accordingly.

Armed with a warrant for her arrest, Patrolman Baughn went to the Minshall residence on Willard street and found the woman confined to her bed, unable to move. He was not certain that she was ill until her physician was communicated with, remembering that once before when she was being placed under arrest she had "heart trouble" and dropped upon a couch in which was concealed some twelve quarts of booze.

As soon as she is able to move she will be taken before Mayor Oster to answer to the charge filed against her.

WILLARD-MORAN NEWS OF CONTEST

News of the boxing contest between Jess Willard, champion pugilist of the world, and Owen Moran, who seeks to wrest the title from the tall Kansan, which occurs in New York City, Saturday night, will be received by The Herald, round by round.

The contest is scheduled to begin at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, Eastern time (8:30 this time) and is limited to ten rounds.

Great interest is being manifested throughout the country on the outcome of the contest. Already the seat sale amounts to more than one hundred thousand dollars and the contestants will strive for the greatest purse ever hung up for a glove contest or prize fight in the history of pugilism, save only the Jefferies-Johnson fight at Reno, Nevada.

DARRELL DEVORE IS BROUGHT BACK

Darrell Devore, arrested in Dayton upon a charge of stealing an overcoat in this city, was brought back from the Gem City in custody of Patrolman Baughn, Wednesday evening, and was arraigned before Mayor Oster.

Devore virtually admitted his guilt, and Mayor Oster will pronounce sentence accordingly.

NEGLECT OF DUTY CHARGED IN ACTION

Bertha Hill, in common pleas court, has filed action for divorce from John Hill upon the grounds of gross neglect of duty for the past two years. Plaintiff claims that the defendant, although able bodied, has failed to work and provide a living.

They were married in Wilmington July 28, 1891 and have one child. Divorce and alimony are asked by the plaintiff, who is represented by C. E. Baughn.

THE FOREPAWS BOOK THRILLER

Among the most thrilling of the exhibition to be offered with the Famous Forepaws and Hindpaws Circus, to be held at the Y. M. C. A. April 3rd will be Courson & Co. of Springfield, Ohio. To date this organization of five daring athletes have performed only in Y. M. C. A. Gymnastic exhibitions. But such has been the demand for their thrilling act that they will this season enter the professional field. Their initial debut will be made with the Social Committee's stupendous production here.

The act will indeed be a hair-raising feature. Flying rings, trapeze work, parallel and horizontal bar action of unprecedented daring will culminate in the most dangerous and dangerous of all feats, The Giant Swing.

Captain Courson, himself, in a recent exhibition of the crack Gymnasts of the State carried off the highest honors, not only as the biggest winner of individual events but as the best all-round athlete in the whole performance.

Contracts were signed for this performance at the meeting of the Social Committee last evening. Every day, new talent offers itself but the committee feels that nothing but the best and most attractive events should be offered.

In Social Circles

In honor of Mrs. Henry H. Brown of Huntsville, W. Va., and daughter, Mrs. Frank Wolf, of Columbus, Mrs. Roy Brown is giving a series of affairs, at which the guests are chiefly confined to the friends of Mrs. Brown and daughter during their long residence here.

Wednesday afternoon a congenial group of women thoroughly enjoyed a Kensington, with its opportunity of visiting and renewing severed friendships.

Spring flowers were in artistic arrangement throughout the home and the dining room was extremely pretty, carrying out the white and yellow color scheme of the decorations. Yellow carnations graced the center, while garlands of smilax linked them to bud vases holding jonquils at the corners.

Victrola music contributed to the afternoon's pleasure.

Assisting Mrs. Brown in the cordial hospitalities were Mrs. R. C. Peddicord, Mrs. J. Star Smith, Miss Lanum.

The Luncheon Club enjoyed one of the most beautiful and elaborate luncheons of the season with Mrs. Willard Story, Wednesday. Five courses of delicious viands were served.

Pink and white was the prevailing color scheme, the central decoration a mound of fern rising from a circle of pink tulip petals. The place cards were pink tulips.

Mrs. A. P. Rusk of Zanesville, and Mrs. D. L. Thompson were seated with the club members, Mesdames Story, H. B. Maynard, Frank C. Parrett, G. L. Spragg, R. O. Young, C. P. Ballard.

A spirited Bridge game followed the luncheon.

A large number of women braved the blustery March day and found the home of Mrs. Jesse Blackmore, S. Main street, presenting a cheery contrast to the outside and offering every hospitality to the monthly Kensington of the Women's Guild of the First Presbyterian church.

Entertaining with Mrs. Blackmore were Mesdames, H. L. Hadley, Will Sprenger, Ione Bryant, B. F. Davis, Chas. Gage, Miss Vera Veal.

Mrs. Swartz contributed pleasing vocal solos, Mrs. B. F. Davis accompanied, to the sociability of the afternoon.

A dainty repast was served.

A movement is being promoted by the club women of the city to secure attractive club rooms for the meetings of the various club organizations.

But few homes are adequate to the accommodation of clubs the size of the D. A. Rs., the Brownings and the Cecilians, and the securing of a club home has become a necessity.

The annual class banquet of the Charlotte Tuttle Sisterhood, held at the First Presbyterian church, was an affair of great social pleasure in which thirty-two guests participated.

An elegant banquet was served, the table presenting a glowing picture with scarlet carnations and scarlet candles gleaming in crystal shades.

The toast hour was delightful, with Mrs. Tuttle a spontaneous toast mistress, and responses made by Rev. Gage, Dr. Carey Persinger, Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Sprenger and Mr. Tuttle. Mrs. Chas. Gage was chairman of

AN INTERESTING MEETING IS HELD WEDNESDAY EVE

Another interesting meeting was held last night at the Christian church. Mr. Groves took for his subject: Paul before Felix.

He said that rarely had two men stood before each other whose lives were in such utter contrast—one the embodiment of all that was good; the other the impersonation of evil. The outline of the sermon was the same as Paul used when he stood as a prisoner before the Roman governor—righteousness, self control and judgment to come.

The speaker earnestly urged right living and the practicing of the gospel of brotherhood in all of the relationships of life. He emphasized the importance of bringing the passions and appetites under control, stating that these, if rightly used, raise a person to the noblest living; if abused, lower him beneath the level.

In conclusion he emphasized the teaching of Jesus in reference to the judgment and the importance of being prepared. When the invitation was given two came forward and made the good confession. There were also three others who were baptized. The subject tonight is "Christian Baptism."

In Social Circles

In honor of Mrs. Henry H. Brown of Huntsville, W. Va., and daughter, Mrs. Frank Wolf, of Columbus, Mrs. Roy Brown is giving a series of affairs, at which the guests are chiefly confined to the friends of Mrs. Brown and daughter during their long residence here.

Wednesday afternoon a congenial group of women thoroughly enjoyed a Kensington, with its opportunity of visiting and renewing severed friendships.

Spring flowers were in artistic arrangement throughout the home and the dining room was extremely pretty, carrying out the white and yellow color scheme of the decorations. Yellow carnations graced the center, while garlands of smilax linked them to bud vases holding jonquils at the corners.

Victrola music contributed to the afternoon's pleasure.

Assisting Mrs. Brown in the cordial hospitalities were Mrs. R. C. Peddicord, Mrs. J. Star Smith, Miss Lanum.

The Luncheon Club enjoyed one of the most beautiful and elaborate luncheons of the season with Mrs. Willard Story, Wednesday. Five courses of delicious viands were served.

Pink and white was the prevailing color scheme, the central decoration a mound of fern rising from a circle of pink tulip petals. The place cards were pink tulips.

Mrs. A. P. Rusk of Zanesville, and Mrs. D. L. Thompson were seated with the club members, Mesdames Story, H. B. Maynard, Frank C. Parrett, G. L. Spragg, R. O. Young, C. P. Ballard.

A spirited Bridge game followed the luncheon.

A large number of women braved the blustery March day and found the home of Mrs. Jesse Blackmore, S. Main street, presenting a cheery contrast to the outside and offering every hospitality to the monthly Kensington of the Women's Guild of the First Presbyterian church.

Entertaining with Mrs. Blackmore were Mesdames, H. L. Hadley, Will Sprenger, Ione Bryant, B. F. Davis, Chas. Gage, Miss Vera Veall.

Mrs. Swartz contributed pleasing vocal solos, Mrs. B. F. Davis accompanied, to the sociability of the afternoon.

A dainty repast was served.

A movement is being promoted by the club women of the city to secure attractive club rooms for the meetings of the various club organizations.

But few homes are adequate to the accommodation of clubs the size of the D. A. Rs., the Browning and the Cecilians, and the securing of a club home has become a necessity.

The annual class banquet of the Charlotte Tuttle Sisterhood, held at the First Presbyterian church, was an affair of great social pleasure in which thirty-two guests participated.

An elegant banquet was served, the table presenting a glowing picture with scarlet carnations and scarlet candles gleaming in crystal shades.

The toast hour was delightful, with Mrs. Tuttle a spontaneous toast mistress, and responses made by Rev. Gage, Dr. Carey Persinger, Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Sprenger and Mr. Tuttle.

Mrs. Chas. Gage was chairman of

COMMANDS 2,000 TROOPS

Coup Disturbs Officials at Washington, as It Is Feared Herrera's Action Will Be Followed by Defection On Part of Other Villa Sympathizers—Conference Held at the White House.

Washington, March 23.—Former Governor Luis Herrera of Chihuahua, with 2,000 troops, has gone over to General Villa.

Official confirmation of this has been received at the war department in telegrams from Generals Funston and Bell.

The news caused grave apprehension in official circles. Fear is expressed that the action of Herrera, who was formerly on Villa's staff of generals, may be followed by defection on the part of other Villa sympathizers.

Following a conference with the president at the White House, Secretary of War Baker confirmed the reports that came from the border that Herrera had deserted Carranza to take up common cause with Villa.

Secretary Baker stated that in a dispatch received at the department General Funston denied a border report that twenty-seven army trucks, with their drivers missing, had been found miles off the line of march in Mexico. The secretary also declared that no further troop movements are in contemplation at present.

Prior to Secretary Baker's statement army officers had expressed concern over the situation likely to develop as a result of Herrera's espousal of Villa's cause, and there were intimations that prompt steps would now have to be taken to protect General Pershing's lines of communication. It is regarded as probable that orders may soon be issued directing troops stationed at different points throughout the country to hold themselves in readiness for a movement toward the border.

At the present time there are available, exclusive of field artillery and engineers, just 5,105 troops of the mobile force of the United States army in this country that are not now on the border. Officials of the war department added that if necessary the 14,000 coast artillery troops in the United States could be drawn on, making a total additional regular army force of 22,212. It is also suggested as probable that the war department would avail itself without delay of the offers to serve from the crack national guard cavalry regiments of New York, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Arizona and New Mexico, a total of approximately 5,000 men.

Conditions in the Tampico oil district, on the east coast, were admitted by the state department to be bad, and though no confirmation was found in official dispatches, officials of the department were inclined to credit the press reports from Torreon that the British consul there has decided to send all foreign women and children from that city to the American border in boxcars. The situation in the Tampico district caused Secretary of the Navy Daniels to announce that he had ordered the battleship Kentucky to go there and anchor off Tampico.

AMERICAN AVIATOR IS FOUND

Columbus, N. M., March 23.—Robert E. Willis, one of the best American aviators, has been found by scouts sent out from Casas Grandes to locate him. According to reports received here, Lieutenant Edgar S. Carroll, the other missing aviator, has not been found. It is admitted that the aeroplanes are not as safe as they are commonly expected, due partly to the fact that the engines are not powerful or fast enough for the high altitude of the Sierra Madre.

As the aviators carried but little food or water when they left here it is feared that Lieutenant Carroll, if forced to descend any distance from habitations, may starve or die of thirst before he is rescued.

BILL PROVIDING FOR VOLUNTEERS

Washington, March 23.—Warning his hearers that the American expedition now in Mexico may meet the fate of Gordon at Khartoum, Senator Sherman (Rep., Ill.) introduced in the senate a resolution authorizing the president to issue a call for 50,000 volunteers for service in Mexico. The resolution provides that the volunteers shall be mustered out of service as soon as Villa, the Mexican bandit, has been captured or killed. At Mr. Sherman's request the resolution was placed on the table ready to be voted on at any time it is called up. In his statement Senator Sherman severely criticised the lack of military strength behind the expedition. He declared the position of Pershing's forces daily becomes more precarious as it penetrates into unknown country.

CHINESE SWITCH AGAIN

Yuan Shi Kai Rejects the Emperorship.

DECREE ISSUED AT PEKIN

Government Declares That Revolution Revealed the Fact That the Demand For Monarchical Form of Government Was Far From Unanimous. Officials Anticipating Early Restoration of Peace.

Pekin, China, March 23.—A mandate issued by the state department announces the abandonment of the monarchy and resumption of the republic. The mandate says the revolution shows that the demand for a monarchical form of government is not unanimous and that therefore Yuan Shi-Kai rejects the emperorship and resumes the presidency. The imperial documents, the mandate adds, will be returned by Yuan Shi-Kai to the state council, which will reconvene as the senate, preparatory to the resumption of the republic.

Hsu Shih Chang, who left the cabinet because of the monarchical movement, signed the mandate as secretary of state, having re-entered the cabinet.

In the downfall of Yuan Shi-Kai's plans for making himself emperor, hope is seen for early restoration of peace in China and maintenance of the status quo in the far east during the European war.

The province of Yunnan, rebelling against the overthrow of the republic, for months has been maintaining its independence of the central government and reports of discontent and revolt have come thick and fast from the southern districts. In addition to this state of affairs at home, Yuan has faced powerful opposition to his plans from the outside. Great Britain, Japan and Russia have exerted pressure to prevent any governmental change at this time.

BRIBERY ALLEGED

(By American Press) New York, March 23.—Comptroller William A. Prendergast sent a letter to District Attorney Swann calling on him to investigate charges that certain public officials had been bribed in connection with the signing of the fuel system contracts.

NEW TROUBLE

(By American Press) Galveston, Tex., March 23.—The Felicista junta here received advices to the effect that Felix Diaz, at the head of an army of 5,000 men, has occupied the important Mexican city of Puebla, which is located about half way between Vera Cruz and Mexico City. It is stated that the fall of Puebla followed a battle which lasted for almost ten hours, in which the Carranza general Juan Alearga, was forced to retire after a loss of several hundred killed and wounded. The information is that Diaz captured a large supply of arms and ammunition. The last reports of the Diaz movement was to the effect that his army was operating in the state of Oaxaca, with a force of about 2,000 men. He apparently has crossed the mountains and is now making his way toward Mexico City, hoping to take the capital of Mexico at a time when Carranza is busy elsewhere. It is reported that Diaz has captured the cities of Ojiten, Huatla and Tehuacan, where small Carranza garrisons were stationed.

NO GOOD

(By American Press)

Youngstown, O., March 23.—An attack on the indictments recently returned by the Mahoning county grand jury against six steel companies and E. H. Gary, head of the United States Steel corporation, was made in common pleas court when Judge W. S. Anderson heard arguments on motion to quash the indictments. The motion to quash was made by attorneys for the five local steel companies included in the indictment charging a conspiracy to fix the price of wages and steel products. The attorneys held the indictments indefinite and uncertain. At the close of the arguments Judge Anderson took the question under advisement.

DISQUIETING CONDITIONS

(By American Press)

Washington, March 23.—Disquieting advices from Tampico, which has been more or less a stamping ground of the outlaw elements in Mexico, caused the navy department to order a battleship sent to the vicinity of that point. The battleship Kentucky of the Atlantic reserve fleet will, therefore, not stop at Galveston as originally intended, but will anchor about ten miles outside of Tampico.

She is commanded by Commander D. E. Dismukes, and will keep in touch with the navy department by wireless besides holding herself in readiness to aid in the joint efforts of the Washington and Carranza governments should occasion for her services be required. Extensive oil interests in which foreign capital is vitally interested has long made Tampico an important point.

Secretary Daniels also announced that the gunboat Wheeling in command of Commander E. H. Watson had been ordered from New Orleans to Mexican waters. The Wheeling will proceed to a point not far from Tampico and keep in touch with conditions in the oil fields.

FOR PREPAREDNESS

(By American Press)

New York, March 23.—Six hundred members of the chamber of commerce of the state of New York were present at a special meeting of the chamber at which were adopted resolutions which rather pointedly advised congress to take the word of army and navy experts as to this country's need in the matter of preparedness. The resolutions recite that "adequate preparation and security is a business question just as much as an adequate banking system or an adequate insurance system."

ALLEGES INSOLVENCY

(By American Press)

Bowling Green, O., March 23.—Suit for the appointment of a receiver for the Bowling Green Motor Truck company has been brought by H. P. Elwood, deposed manager of the concern. He alleges the company is insolvent.

DEFENSES BILL THROUGH SENATE

Doubles the Strength of Cadet Corps at West Point.

Washington, March 23.—With only two important sections remaining to be discussed, the early passage of the Hay army increase bill by the house is assured.

The bill will come up in the senate probably next Monday. Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee announced that he would await the arrival of the house bill.

As a preliminary step on army legislation, the senate passed, by a vote of 59 to 2, the bill virtually doubling the authorized strength of the cadet corps at West Point military academy. A similar measure applying to the naval academy already has been signed by the president.

The Hay bill has not been altered in any of its broad aspects during the three day struggle in the house with amendments. One section still to be disposed of, however, is the vital element of the whole army plan proposed. It is the militia pay provision, under which the bill is expected to produce a force of 425,000 national guardsmen within five years as a substitute for the administration's continental army proposal. Another important section remaining is that authorizing construction of a plant to produce atmosphere nitrogen for use in explosives.

AMERICAN SCOUTS KILLED

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., March 23.—Two American army scouts are reported to have been killed in a brush with Villista forces in the El Valle-Namiquipa district of Chihuahua, in which the pursuit of Villa is progressing. Word to that effect was received by army officers here. It was the first report of an American killed since the punitive expedition entered Mexico.

CARRANZA BREAK?

(By American Press)

Galveston, Tex., March 23.—Reliable information was received here that a break of diplomatic relations between this government and the de facto government is imminent. The information is to the effect that the constitutional government will not comply with demands which this government has made and is expected to make in connection with the movement of American troops through Chihuahua.

FOUL PLAY

(By American Press)

New York, March 23.—Information supplied by members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, Mich., impelled District Attorney Swann to investigate the circumstances of the death of Mrs. Peck on Jan. 30 and of Mr. Peck on March 12, in the apartment occupied by their son-in-law, Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, on Riverside Drive.

Percy S. Peck, a son of the wealthy elderly couple, who is now in Grand Rapids, received a mysterious telegram while making arrangements for the funeral of his father in Grand Rapids, advising him to have an autopsy performed on the body of his father without fail. An examination of the stomach made by Dr. Victor C. Vanshn, dean of the medical department of the University of Michigan, disclosed the presence of arsenic in the stomach. Mrs. Peck also died of a stomach ailment. Her body was taken to Detroit, where it was cremated Feb. 1.

BOY'S PRANKS AND RESULTS

(By American Press)

Nashville, Tenn., March 23.—A ball of yarn, lighted and thrown by a boy into dry grass in a vacant lot, started a conflagration in Nashville, which was not gotten under control until thirty-five residence blocks had been swept by the fire. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000. A wind driving at fifty miles an hour, fanned the burning grass into a torrent of flames, which quickly caught a planing mill and leaped from building to building until at least 600 residences had been destroyed. The East Nashville subpostoffice burned and the big Warner public school and several churches were reduced to ruins. It is estimated that at least 3,000 persons are homeless as a result of the conflagration.

According to reports received here, Lieutenant Edgar S. Carroll, the other missing aviator, has not been found. It is admitted that the aviators are not as enthusiastic as the government expected, due largely to the fact that the engines are not powerful or fast enough for the high altitude of the Sierra Madre.

As the aviators carried but little food or water when they left here it is feared that Lieutenant Carroll, if forced to descend any distance from habitations, may starve or die of thirst before he is rescued.

BILL PROVIDING FOR VOLUNTEERS

(By American Press)

Washington, March 23.—Warning his hearers that the American expedition now in Mexico may meet the fate of Gordon at Khartoum, Senator Sherman (Rep., Ill.) introduced in the senate a resolution authorizing the president to issue a call for 50,000 volunteers for service in Mexico. The resolution provides that the volunteers shall be mustered out of service as soon as Villa, the Mexican bandit, has been captured or killed. At Mr. Sherman's request the resolution was placed on the table ready to be voted on at any time it is called up. In his statement Senator Sherman severely criticized the lack of military strength behind the expedition. He declared the position of Pershing's forces daily becomes more precarious as it penetrates into unknown country.

CHINESE SWITCH AGAIN

Yuan Shi Kai Rejects the Emperorship.

DECREE ISSUED AT PEKIN

Government Declares That Revolution Revealed the Fact That the Demand For Monarchical Form of Government Was Far From Unanimous. Officials Anticipating Early Restoration of Peace.

Pekin, China, March 23.—A mandate issued by the state department announces the abandonment of the monarchy and resumption of the republic. The mandate says the revolution shows that the demand for a monarchical form of government is not unanimous and that therefore Yuan Shi-Kai rejects the emperorship and resumes the presidency. The imperial documents, the mandate adds, will be returned by Yuan Shi-Kai to the state council, which will reconvene as the senate, preparatory to the resumption of the republic.

Hsu Shih Chang, who left the cabinet because of the monarchical movement, signed the mandate as secretary of state, having re-entered the cabinet.

In the downfall of Yuan Shi-Kai's plans for making himself emperor, hope is seen for early restoration of peace in China and maintenance of the status quo in the far east during the European war.

The province of Yunnan, rebelling against the overthrow of the republic, for months has been maintaining its independence of the central government and reports of discontent and revolt have come thick and fast from the southern districts. In addition to this state of affairs at home, Yuan has faced powerful opposition to his plans from the outside. Great Britain, Japan and Russia have exerted pressure to prevent any governmental change at this time.

BRIBERY ALLEGED

(By American Press)

New York, March 23.—Comptroller William A. Prendergast sent a letter to District Attorney Swann calling on him to investigate charges that certain public officials had been bribed in connection with the signing of the dual system contracts.

NEW TROUBLE

(By American Press)

Galveston, Tex., March 23.—The Felicista junta here received advice to the effect that Felix Diaz, at the head of an army of 5,000 men, has occupied the important Mexican city of Puebla, which is located about half way between Vera Cruz and Mexico City. It is stated that the fall of Puebla followed a battle which lasted for almost ten hours, in which the Carranza general Juan Alarza, was forced to retire after a loss of several hundred killed and wounded. The information is that Diaz captured a large supply of arms and ammunition. The last reports of the Diaz movement was to the effect that his army was operating in the state of Oaxaca, with a force of about 2,000 men. He apparently has crossed the mountains and is now making his way toward Mexico City, hoping to take the capital of Mexico at a time when Carranza is busy elsewhere. It is reported that Diaz has captured the cities of Ojitlan, Huatla and Tehuacan, where small Carranza garrisons were stationed.

NO GOOD

(By American Press)

Youngstown, O., March 23.—An attack on the indictments recently returned by the Mahoning county grand jury against six steel companies and E. H. Gary, head of the United States Steel corporation, was made in common pleas court when Judge W. S. Anderson heard arguments on motion to quash the indictments. The motion to quash was made by attorneys for the five local steel companies included in the indictment charging a conspiracy to fix the price of wages and steel products. The attorneys held the indictments indefinite and uncertain. At the close of the arguments Judge Anderson took the question under advisement.

DISQUIETING CONDITIONS

(By American Press)

Washington, March 23.—Disquieting advices from Tampico, which has been more or less a stamping ground of the outlaw elements in Mexico, caused the navy department to order a battleship sent to the vicinity of that point. The battleship Kentucky of the Atlantic reserve fleet will, therefore, not stop at Galveston as originally intended, but will anchor about ten miles outside of Tampico.

She is commanded by Commander D. E. Dismukes, and will keep in touch with the navy department by wireless besides holding herself in readiness to aid in the joint efforts of the Washington and Carranza governments should occasion for her services be required. Extensive oil interests in which foreign capital is vitally interested has long made Tampico an important point.

Secretary Daniels also announced that the gunboat Wheeling in command of Commander E. H. Watson had been ordered from New Orleans to Mexican waters. The Wheeling will proceed to a point not far from Tampico and keep in touch with conditions in the oil fields.

FOR PREPAREDNESS

(By American Press)

New York, March 23.—Six hundred members of the chamber of commerce of the state of New York were present at a special meeting of the chamber at which were adopted resolutions which rather pointedly advised congress to take the word of army and navy experts as to this country's need in the matter of preparedness. The resolutions recite that "adequate preparation and security is a business question just as much as an adequate banking system or an adequate insurance system."

ALLEGES INSOLVENCY

(By American Press)

Bowling Green, O., March 23.—Suit for the appointment of a receiver for the Bowling Green Motor Truck company has been brought by H. P. Elwood, deposed manager of the concern. He alleges the company is insolvent.

DEFENSES BILL THROUGH SENATE

Doubles the Strength of Cadet Corps at West Point.

Washington, March 23.—With only two important sections remaining to be discussed, the early passage of the Hay army increase bill by the house is assured.

The bill will come up in the senate probably next Monday. Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee announced that he would await the arrival of the house bill.

As a preliminary step on army legislation, the senate passed, by a vote of 59 to 2, the bill virtually doubling the authorized strength of the cadet corps at West Point military academy. A similar measure applying to the naval academy already has been signed by the president.

The Hay bill has not been altered in any of its broad aspects during the three day struggle in the house with amendments. One section still to be disposed of, however, is the vital element of the whole army plan proposed. It is the militia pay provision, under which the bill is expected to produce a force of 425,000 national guardsmen within five years as a substitute for the administration's continental army proposal. Another important section remaining is that authorizing construction of a plant to produce atmosphere nitrogen for use in explosives.

AMERICAN SCOUTS KILLED

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., March 23.—Two American army scouts are reported to have been killed in a brush with Villista forces in the El Valle-Namiquipa district of Chihuahua, in which the pursuit of Villa is progressing. Word to that effect was received by army officers here. It was the first report of an American killed since the punitive expedition entered Mexico.

CARRANZA BREAK?

(By American Press)

Galveston, Tex., March 23.—Reliable information was received here that a break of diplomatic relations between this government and the de facto government is imminent. The information is to the effect that the constitutional government will not comply with demands which this government has made and is expected to make in connection with the movement of American troops through Chihuahua.

FOUL PLAY

(By American Press)

New York, March 23.—Information supplied by members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, Mich., impelled District Attorney Swann to investigate the circumstances of the death of Mrs. Peck on Jan. 30 and of Mr. Peck on March 12, in the apartment occupied by their son-in-law, Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, on Riverside Drive.

Percy S. Peck, a son of the wealthy elderly couple, who is now in Grand Rapids, received a mysterious telegram while making arrangements for the funeral of his father in Grand Rapids, advising him to have an autopsy performed on the body of his father without fail. An examination of the stomach made by Dr. Victor C. Vaughn, dean of the medical department of the University of Michigan, disclosed the presence of arsenic in the stomach. Mrs. Peck also died of a stomach ailment. Her body was taken to Detroit, where it was cremated Feb. 1.

BOY'S PRANKS AND RESULTS

(By American Press)

Nashville, Tenn., March 23.—A ball of yarn, lighted and thrown by a boy into dry grass in a vacant lot, started a conflagration in Nashville, which was not gotten under control until thirty-five residence blocks had been swept by the fire. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000. A wind driving at fifty miles an hour, fanned the burning grass into a torrent of flames, which quickly caught a planing mill and leaped from building to building until at least 600 residences had been destroyed. The East Nashville subpostoffice burned and the Warner public school and several churches were reduced to ruins. It is estimated that at least 3,000 persons are homeless as a result of the conflagration.

THE GIRL AND THE GAME

A Story of Mountain Railroad Life

by FRANK H. SPEARMAN

Copyright 1915 by Frank H. Spearman

Novelized From the Moving Picture Play of the Same Name Produced by the Signal Film Corporation.

SYNOPSIS.

Little Helen Holmes, daughter of General Holmes, railroad man, is rescued from imminent danger on a scenic railroad by George Storm, a newsboy. Grown to young womanhood Helen saves Storm, now a fireman, her father, and his friends Amos Rhinelander, financier, and Robert Seagrue, promoter, from a threatened collision. Safebreakers employed by Seagrue steal General Holmes' survey plans of the cut-off line for the Tidewater, fatally wounding the general and escape. Helen recovers the survey plans from Seagrue, and though they are taken from her, finds an accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint. Storm, employed by Rhinelander, wins a fight with Seagrue's men for possession of a consignment of railroad ties. Spike and his confederate safe-breakers steal Rhinelander's pay-roll money. Helen pursues and, with a policeman's aid, captures two of them and recovers the money.

With a quick word to Bill, above, Lug scrambled into the car. He placed Helen, now unconscious, in a sitting position and ran to the hind end to look for the machine. It had overhauled the train and was speeding beside it along the highway. Lug waved to the driver to come on. Returning to the car, he motioned to Bill to help him carry Helen out. The two men picked her up and took her to the platform. How to transfer her to the motorcar was a problem that might have given pause to more clever men. Lug intended at first to throw the helpless girl from the platform into the machine, but this he discovered would never do—the distance was too great. Bill, an old sailor, came to the rescue with another arrangement. In a jiffy he had lashed Helen into a kind of cradle in the middle of the long rope, and, throwing one end to the driver, shouted to him to make it fast. The latter, when he caught the line, hitched it to the side of his car, and with the motor and the train still at high speed, Lug, on the rope, went hand over hand down to the motorcar. Loosening the hitch, he then drew in the rope, while Bill, on the platform, carefully paid out and Helen was transferred, uninjured, from the train to the machine.

Once within the motorcar, Helen was unceremoniously dropped to the bottom and left there, while the machine was turned around and her captors whisked back for Las Vegas with her.

Storm, by this time, had left the construction camp and was waiting at Baird for the train bearing Helen. The train drew in and stopped. To Storm's surprise and disappointment, not a solitary passenger got off. He accosted the conductor: "Helen Holmes was coming up today. Where is she?"

The conductor looked down the platform. "She certainly was on the train," he declared, puzzled. "I saw her just before we got to Arden."

Storm, the trainman following, walked hastily through the coaches. Helen was not to be found. A freight train going to Las Vegas was standing on the passenger track. Storm ran to the caboose and explained his anxiety to the train crew, who were prompt to make ready to aid him. They pulled out with Storm in the cab to scan the right of way.

In Seagrue's machine Lug and Bill opened Helen's satchel. They found a big package of letters, and believed they had in them the contracts.

Helen, in the rush of cold air, had begun to revive. As a precaution to prevent her giving any alarm—though machines were sufficiently scarce on the desert—Lug took Helen's handkerchief from her satchel, tied it roughly over her mouth, laid her on the seat, cautioned her harshly and covered her with a steamer rug.

Traveling at a breakneck pace over the broad expanse of sand, the car was entering Las Vegas, when, crossing one of the village streets without lessening speed, the driver almost knocked a man down. Indeed, but for a smart jump, the pedestrian would have been killed. He turned with a suppressed curse and looked angrily after the car that had so nearly struck him. The occupants he did not recognize; they shot by too fast. But a handkerchief had chanced to fall from the car at his feet. Spike never neglected investigating anything that fell in his way. He picked the handkerchief up and walked on, still at intervals looking back.

Seagrue was in his rooms, waiting impatiently for the return of the car. When it did at last skid wildly around the corner traveling at a reckless pace, Seagrue ran downstairs and hurried the men to get Helen quickly inside. Spike at this juncture was crossing a vacant lot. He looked again at the handkerchief in his hand, and his eyes turned once more in the direction of the machine. He saw that the party had stopped before a building appearing to Spike's eyes somewhat familiar. The next moment the men lifted what seemed a heavy burden from the machine. Helen had been gagged again and was helpless. But despite her being wrapped in the rug, Spike got from what he saw, the whole story—they had Helen. A sudden rage stirred him, and, throwing caution to the winds, he dashed across the open lot toward the alley.

The freight train bearing Storm was nearing Las Vegas, but nowhere had he been able to discover a trace of Helen. Seagrue and his men were carrying her upstairs. They left the driver as a guard at the lower door, and Spike, running hard, had neared the building. When the engine stopped, Storm, with a look of worry, got hurriedly down. The first man his eyes chanced to fall on was Spike. The sight of him to Storm was like red to a bull. Gaining Spike's vicinity stealthily, Storm made at him. "What are you fellows up to now?" he cried angrily, throttling Spike with the words against the building.

ICE MAN IS GIVEN SET-BACK

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Sandusky, O., March 23.—Action by local ice dealers in boosting the retail price of ice to $8 a ton, or one dollar more per ton than it has ever been, has resulted in a movement here for a municipal ice plant. Sandusky socialists are especially active in the movement declaring they are "tired of paying hard coal" prices for ice.

IN THE INTERESTS OF FUTURE GENERATIONS

The object of the Child Welfare League is not a better baby contest, but to promote the health and general welfare of future generations.

From March 27th until April 1st will be registration week for parents who wish to have their children examined during "baby week," April 2 to 8.

All children of Fayette county 5 years old and under are eligible.

Persons will be at the office of the Welfare nurse, at all hours during registration week to register the parents' applications.

Friday of "baby week" will be set aside for examination of colored children alone.

Two physicians will work in conjunction during the examination of a child; no children are treated; all needed corrections are referred to the family physician.

No fees are charged for examination.

ROAD STILL SINKS MUST BE REBUILT

A section of pike near Bainbridge which has been sinking into the earth for sometime, is still dropping away and has required a great deal of material to fill in the depression so that it is passable.

Other sections of road in Ross county are sinking in similar manner, and the belief is expressed by the County Engineer that quick sand is the cause of the phenomenon.

D. T. & I. MAY NOT BE PARTY TO PLAN

So far the B. & O. and D. T. & I. have not closed negotiations for the D. T. & I. to use jointly the union station in this city, and for several months no activity in the negotiations have been heard of.

So far as known the D. T. & I. management believes the terms offered by the B. & O. are not liberal enough to warrant abandoning the new passenger station recently erected in this city and becoming a tenant with the B. & O. and C. H. & D.

MEAT BILL INCREASE

(By American Press)

Columbus, March 23.—An advance of $1,000 per week over the price paid three months ago by the state board of administration for meats for the 22,000 wards of the state in different state institutions was paid by the board, and there is promise of a still greater rate being charged before the year ends. There was an increase of 10 per cent paid on meats other than pork, and 12½ per cent on all pork. One million pounds of meat is used each three months.

SOME DECLARATION

(By American Press)

Minneapolis, March 23.—Three men were killed and three injured, two probably fatally, in a collision of two freight trains on the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad, near New Richland, Minn., during a snowstorm. The victims were caught in the burning wreckage.

LIGHTSHIP MISSING

(By American Press)

London, March 23.—The Galloper lightship, about thirty miles equally distant from Harwich and North Foreland, near the mouth of the Thames river, has disappeared and is believed to have been torpedoed. This is the first lightship sunk in the war. Nothing has been heard of the crew, which was normally from seven to ten men.

SYNOPSIS.

Little Helen Holmes, daughter of General Holmes, railroad man, is rescued from imminent danger on a scenic railroad by George Storm, a newsboy. Grown to young womanhood, Helen saves Storm, now a fireman, her father, and his friends Amos Rhinelander, financier, and Robert Seagrue, promoter, from a threatened collision. Safebreakers employed by Seagrue steal General Holmes' survey plans of the cut-off line for the Tidewater, fatally wounding the general and escape. Helen saves Storm from a horrible death. Helen recovers the survey plans from Seagrue, and though they are taken from her, finds an accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint. Storm, employed by Rhinelander, wins a fight with Seagrue's men for possession of a consignment of railroad ties. Spike and his confederate safe-breakers steal Rhinelander's pay-roll money. Helen pursues and, with a policeman's aid, captures two of them and recovers the money.

With a quick word to Bill, above, Lug scrambled into the car. He placed Helen, now unconscious, in a sitting position and ran to the hind end to look for the machine. It had overhauled the train and was speeding beside it along the highway. Lug waved to the driver to come on. Returning to the car, he motioned to Bill to help him carry Helen out. The two men picked her up and took her to the platform. How to transfer her to the motorcar was a problem that might have given pause to more clever men. Lug intended at first to throw the helpless girl from the platform into the machine, but this he discovered would never do—the distance was too great. Bill, an old sailor, came to the rescue with another arrangement. In a jiffy he had lashed Helen into a kind of cradle in the middle of the long rope, and, throwing one end to the driver, shouted to him to make it fast. The latter, when he caught the line, hitched it to the side of his car, and with the motor and the train still at high speed, Lug, on the rope, went hand over hand down to the motorcar. Loosening the hitch, he then drew in the rope, while Bill, on the platform, carefully paid out and Helen was transferred, uninjured, from the train to the machine.

Once within the motorcar, Helen was unceremoniously dropped to the bottom and left there, while the machine was turned around and her captors whisked back for Las Vegas with her.

Storm, by this time, had left the construction camp and was waiting at Baird for the train bearing Helen. The train drew in and stopped. To Storm's surprise and disappointment, not a solitary passenger got off. He accosted the conductor: "Helen Holmes was coming up today. Where is she?"

The conductor looked down the platform. "She certainly was on the train," he declared, puzzled. "I saw her just before we got to Arden."

Storm, the trainman following, walked hastily through the coaches. Helen was not to be found. A freight train going to Las Vegas was standing on the passenger track. Storm ran to the caboose and explained his anxiety to the train crew, who were prompt to make ready to aid him. They pulled out with Storm in the cab to scan the right of way.

In Seagrue's machine Lug and Bill opened Helen's satchel. They found a big package of letters, and believed they had in them the contracts.

Helen, in the rush of cold air, had begun to revive. As a precaution to prevent her giving any alarm—though machines were sufficiently scarce on the desert—Lug took Helen's handkerchief from her satchel, tied it roughly over her mouth, laid her on the seat, cautioned her harshly and covered her with a steamer rug.

Traveling at a breakneck pace over the broad expanse of sand, the car was entering Las Vegas, when, crossing one of the village streets without lessening speed, the driver almost knocked a man down. Indeed, but for a smart jump, the pedestrian would have been killed. He turned with a suppressed curse and looked angrily after the car that had so nearly struck him. The occupants he did not recognize; they shot by too fast. But a handkerchief had chanced to fall from the car at his feet. Spike never neglected investigating anything that fell in his way. He picked the handkerchief up and walked on, still at intervals looking back.

Seagrue was in his rooms, waiting impatiently for the return of the car. When it did at last skid wildly around the corner traveling at a reckless pace, Seagrue ran downstairs and hurried the men to get Helen quickly inside. Spike at this juncture was crossing a vacant lot. He looked again at the handkerchief in his hand, and his eyes turned once more in the direction of the machine. He saw that the party had stopped before a building appearing to Spike's eyes somewhat familiar. The next moment the men lifted what seemed a heavy burden from the machine. Helen had been gagged again and was helpless. But despite her being wrapped in the rug, Spike got, from what he saw, the whole story—they had Helen. A sudden rage stirred him, and, throwing caution to the winds, he dashed across the open lot toward the alley.

The freight train bearing Storm was nearing Las Vegas, but nowhere had he been able to discover a trace of Helen. Seagrue and his men were carrying her upstairs. They left the driver as a guard at the lower door, and Spike, running hard, had neared the building. When the engine stopped, Storm, with a look of worry, got hurriedly down. The first man his eyes chanced to fall on was Spike. The sight of him to Storm was like red to a bull. Gaining Spike's vicinity stealthily, Storm made at him. "What are you fellows up to now?" he cried angrily, throttling Spike with the words against the building.

ICE MAN IS GIVEN SET-BACK

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Sandusky, O., March 23.—Action by local ice dealers in boosting the retail price of ice to $8 a ton, or one dollar more per ton than it has ever been, has resulted in a movement here for a municipal ice plant. Sandusky socialists are especially active in the movement declaring they are "tired of paying hard coal" prices for ice.

IN THE INTERESTS OF FUTURE GENERATIONS

The object of the Child Welfare League is not a better baby contest, but to promote the health and general welfare of future generations.

From March 27th until April 1st will be registration week for parents who wish to have their children examined during "baby week," April 2 to 8.

All children of Fayette county 5 years old and under are eligible.

Persons will be at the office of the Welfare nurse, at all hours during registration week to register the parents' applications.

Friday of "baby week" will be set aside for examination of colored children alone.

Two physicians will work in conjunction during the examination of a child; no children are treated; all needed corrections are referred to the family physician.

No fees are charged for examination.

MRS. WHEELER BAY, 69 14 Ch'm. Publicity Committee.

ROAD STILL SINKS MUST BE REBUILT

A section of pike near Bainbridge which has been sinking into the earth for sometime, is still dropping away and has required a great deal of material to fill in the depression so that it is passable.

Other sections of road in Ross county are sinking in similar manner, and the belief is expressed by the County Engineer that quick sand is the cause of the phenomenon.

D. T. & I. MAY NOT BE PARTY TO PLAN

So far the B. & O. and D. T. & I. have not closed negotiations for the D. T. & I. to use jointly the union station in this city, and for several months no activity in the negotiations have been heard of.

So far as known the D. T. & I. management believes the terms offered by the B. & O. are not liberal enough to warrant abandoning the new passenger station recently erected in this city and becoming a tenant with the B. & O. and C. H. & D.

MEAT BILL INCREASE

(By American Press)
Columbus, March 23.—An advance of $1,000 per week over the price paid three months ago by the state board of administration for meats for the 22,000 wards of the state in different state institutions was paid by the board, and there is promise of a still greater rate being charged before the year ends. There was an increase of 16 per cent paid on meats other than pork, and 12½ per cent on all pork. One million pounds of meat is used each three months.

SOME DECLARATION

(By American Press)
San Antonio, Tex., March 23.—General Herrera, in command of 2,000 Carranzista troops at Chihuahua City, is reported from reliable sources to have revolted with his men, declared his intention of joining Villa and to have declared war on the United States.

THREE ARE KILLED

(By American Press)
Minneapolis, March 23.—Three men were killed and three injured, two probably fatally, in a collision of two freight trains on the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad, near New Richland, Minn., during a snowstorm. The victims were caught in the burning wreckage.

LIGHTSHIP MISSING

(By American Press)
London, March 23.—The Galloper lightship, about thirty miles equally distant from Harwich and North Foreland, near the mouth of the Thames river, has disappeared and is believed to have been torpedoed. This is the first lightship sunk in the war. Nothing has been heard of the crew, which was normally from seven to ten men.

COMES FROM CANADA TO BUY FAYETTE'S BLOODED HORSES

Handsome Percheron Owned By James Brothers Goes to R. L. Roth, of Medicine Hat, Alberta, at Splendid Figure—Two Pure Blooded Belgians Also Purchased of Frank L. Parrett and Will Be Shipped This Week.

Three Fayette county horses will be shipped this week to Medicine Hat, Alberta, Canada, and in order to obtain them R. L. Roth of Medicine Hat has just paid a stiff price and will pay a snug sum in transportation charges before the animals reach their destination.

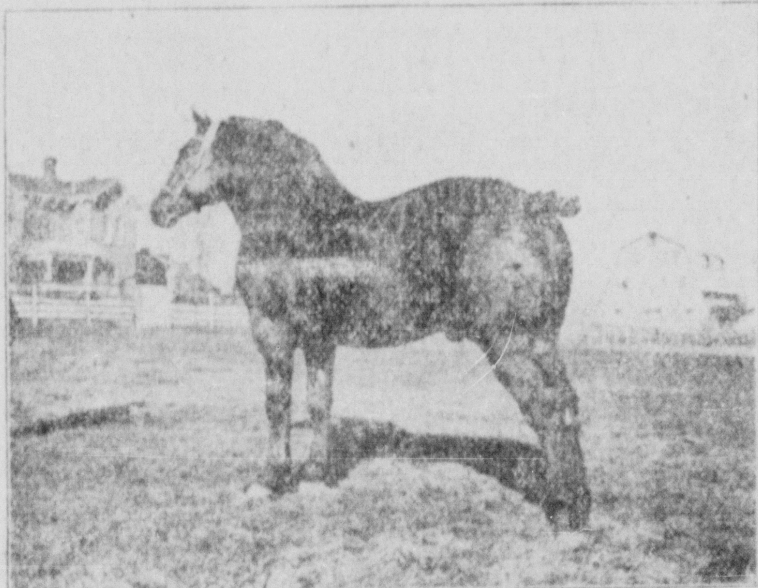

In response to an advertisement inserted in a farm paper by the James Brothers of Jeffersonville, Mr. Roth arrived in Jeffersonville this week and purchased of Messrs. James their registered Percheron stallion, "Ornate," at a very handsome price.

Ornate is 22 months old and a son of Veda, a mare for which James Brothers paid $800 two years ago in Illinois. That the investment was sound is shown by the sale yesterday of her son for the snug sum of $1000.

The dam was the winner of the Hagler Cup at the last Fayette county fair, the cup being offered for the best draft mare of any breed. The sire of the colt is Moulinet, foaled in France where he had a wonderful show career before being brought to America, finally winning the supreme honor of the show rings of France, the championship of Paris, in 1911.

The colt Ornate registered in the Percheron Society of America under the Number 112944 was foaled May 16th, 1914, and his picture shows the wonderful development and finish attained at an early age by careful feeding and exercise together with a foundation of the best blood lines. Ornate was one of the Futurity winners at the Ohio State Fair last fall. He weighed at 17 month, 1710 pounds.

Some of Mr. Roth's neighbors desiring blooded animals, Mr. Roth went to the Frank L. Parrett farm and there purchased two Belgian two year old stallions, and will ship the three splendid animals this week.

"Ornate," Beautiful Percheron Sold by James Brothers, of Jeffersonville, To Head R. L. Roth Ranch, in Alberta, Canada.

Mr. Roth also viewed horses on the Hegler farm near Hegler's Station, and will inspect other animals before leaving for his long trip back to south-western Canada. He has been agreeably surprised at the amount of fine registered live stock, particularly horses, which he has found in Fayette county, and it is not unlikely that he will purchase other animals before he leaves, as such horses are few in his home locality.

Mr. Roth owns 1200 acres near Medicine Hat and has several thousand acres under lease.

Just as soon as he can obtain the necessary certificate from the State Veterinarian, required before horses are shipped into Canada, he will return with his purchases.

$500 FUTURITY FOR BELGIAN COLTS

Of immense interest to Fayette county's breeders of Belgian horses is the decision of the State Board of Agriculture Thursday to offer $500 Futurity Stake for Belgian colts at the coming state fair.

This will be a big incentive to competitive breeding in this class.

The State Board was induced to offer the Belgian Futurity Colt stake by the Ohio Belgian Society of which Mr. Roy Haglar is vice-president, and Mr. Hays Dill is secretary.

CONCRETE BUILDING WILL BE ERECTED

Mr. Henry Wills has announced that he is preparing to remove the frame blacksmith shop back of the Y. M. C. A. and build a two story concrete block building, 50 by 20 feet, the lower part of which will be utilized as a garage and the upper floor will be finished for residence purposes.

The frame structure was regarded as a menace to the adjoining property, and had been ordered removed.

SPELLING CONTEST PROGRESSING NICELY

County Superintendent of Schools O. S. Nelson, reports great interest in the spelling contest which will open in all townships in the county on April 17th.

Scores of youngsters are busy studying the long list of jaw-breakers and some tip-top spellers are expected to come to light when the contests are under way.

HOME TALENT OPERETTA

The Episcopal church of St. Andrews expects to put on annually a home talent Operetta and is now expecting to give "The Princess Bonnie," early in the fall.

The success of "Fi-Fi" was so pronounced that Episcopalians are encouraged to believe the home talent Operetta as acceptable a form of entertainment as they can offer as a church benefit.

Handsomeness Percheron Owned By
Janes Brothers Goes to R. L. Roth, of Medicine Hat, Alberta, at Splendid Figure—Two Pure Blooded Belgians Also Purchased of Frank L. Parrett and Will Be Shipped This Week.

Three Fayette county horses will be shipped this week to Medicine Hat, Alberta, Canada, and in order to obtain them R. L. Roth of Medicine Hat has just paid a stiff price and will pay a snug sum in transportation charges before the animals reach their destination.

In response to an advertisement inserted in a farm paper by the Janes Brothers of Jeffersonville, Mr. Roth arrived in Jeffersonville this week and purchased of Messrs. Janes their registered Percheron stallion, "Ornate," at a very handsome price.

Ornate is 22 months old and a son of Veda, a mare for which Janes Brothers Paid $800 two years ago in Illinois. That the investment was sound is shown by the sale yesterday of her son for the snug sum of $1000.

The dam was the winner of the Hagler Cup at the last Fayette county fair, the cup being offered for the best draft mare of any breed. The sire of the colt is Moulinet, foaled in France where he had a wonderful show career before being brought to America, finally winning the supreme honor of the show rings of France, the championship of Paris, in 1911.

The colt Ornate registered in the Percheron Society of America under the Number 112944 was foaled May 16th, 1914, and his picture shows the wonderful development and finish attained at an early age by careful feeding and exercise together with a foundation of the best blood lines. Ornate was one of the Futurity winners at the Ohio State Fair last fall. He weighed at 17 month, 1710 pounds.

Some of Mr. Roth's neighbors desiring blooded animals, Mr. Roth went to the Frank L. Parrett farm and there purchased two Belgian two year old stallions, and will ship the three splendid animals this week.

COMES FROM CANADA TO BUY FAYETTE'S BLOODED HORSES

Handsome Percheron Owned By Janes Brothers Goes to R. L.
Roth, of Medicine Hat, Alberta, at Splendid Figure—Two Pure chased of Frank L. Parrett and Will Be Shipped This Week.

Three Fayette county horses will be shipped this week to Medicine Hat, Alberta, Canada, and in order to obtain them R. L. Roth of Medicine Hat has just paid a stiff price and will pay a snug sum in transportation charges before the animals reach their destination.

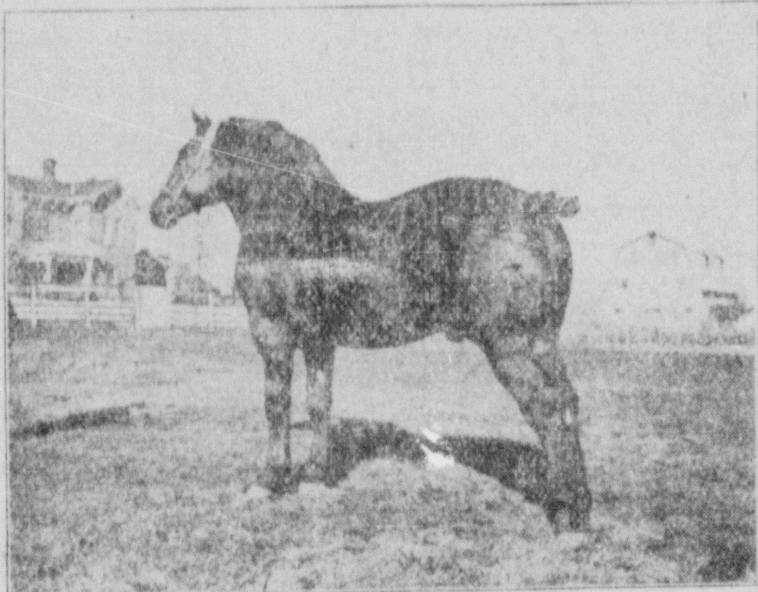

In response to an advertisement inserted in a farm paper by the Janes Brothers of Jeffersonville, Mr. Roth arrived in Jeffersonville this week and purchased of Messrs. Janes their registered Percheron stallion, "Ornate," at a very handsome price.

Ornate is 22 months old and a son of Veda, a mare for which Janes Brothers Paid $800 two years ago in Illinois. That the investment was sound is shown by the sale yesterday of her son for the snug sum of $1000.

"Ornate," Beautiful Percheron Sold by Janes Brothers, of Jeffersonville, To Head R. L. Roth Ranch, in Alberta, Canada.

Mr. Roth also viewed horses on the Hegler farm near Hegler's Station, and will inspect other animals before leaving for his long trip back to south-western Canada. He has been agreeably surprised at the amount of fine registered live stock, particularly horses, which he has found in Fayette county, and it is not unlikely that he will purchase other animals before he leaves, as such horses are few in his home locality.

Mr. Roth owns 1200 acres near Medicine Hat and has several thousand acres under lease.

Just as soon as he can obtain the necessary certificate from the State Veterinarian, required before horses are shipped into Canada, he will return with his purchases.
